

Pre-K Post

January 10, 2025

Welcome back to pre-k! It is so good to be back at school with our friends. It was a long break and Mrs. Davis, Mrs. Owen and I missed you all.

This week was all about snow. Our feature book was, A Snowy Day by Ezra Jack Keats. We read it several times and watched an animated version of the book. Our My Big World packet was also about A Snowy Day. We completed a sequencing activity about what happened in the book using picture cards. Then we cut and pasted the events in sequence on paper. On another paper we counted and graphed winter hats, scarves and mittens.

The most fun we had was making our own snow with shaving cream and glue and creating our own winter scenes. Next time you are in the classroom check out the beautiful snow art. We also ate snow ice cream and made and threw snowballs. Check out the pictures below.

We also read, There Was a Cold Lady That Swallowed Some Snow, The Mitten, Snowman's Big Job and Grumpy Monkey.

In Rebound and Recovery, we reviewed our emotions and how our thoughts, feelings and actions are all connected. We also reviewed the Emotions Meter. Next week we will learn about negative thoughts and continue to practice our calming techniques. Ask your child to teach you some of our calming strategies. They really do work.

Next week, we will begin our Reduce, Reuse, Recycle study. Please send in recyclable for us to sort (2 or 3 plastic paper or aluminum items per student should be plenty) any day next week. We also need lids to containers and small boxes for other activities.
