

GENERAL PROVISIONS

All internal accounts cash receipts must be collected for a specific purpose which must be determined prior to the collection of funds. Given the vast purposes that can be identified for the collection of internal funds, this section is designed to discuss some common sources of internal accounts funds. Any specific requirements and relevant procedures related to each cash receipts topic will be detailed below.